Cockpit and helm

The cockpit of the Tanna 47 offers a seamless connection with the interior, featuring an exterior table that can comfortably seat six to seven guests. The area is designed for relaxation with ample seating, an optional exterior fridge, and a sunbathing space.

At the helm station, you will find controls for the two engines, a helm, plotters for navigation, and all necessary instruments. The catamaran's easy handling is facilitated by the three main reefs, the gennaker yard, and the integrated 1700-watt solar panel system that ensures excellent efficiency and autonomy on board.

Forward Cockpit and Terrace

The forward cockpit boasts a large sunbathing area perfect for reading or soaking up the sun. Beneath the mattress, there is a locker for the anchor and storage for paddles and other water toys.

Adjacent to the helm station, there is a solarium and a cocktail area ideal for socializing with friends and family. The catamaran's stability and spacious passageways enhance the overall experience on board.

Galley, Saloon and Cabins

Inside, the galley and saloon are bright and airy, thanks to numerous windows and a skylight. The galley is equipped with a microwave, oven, gas stove, fridge, and an additional fridge or freezer. The saloon features a standard cocktail table, with an optional convertible table that can turn into a bed.

The master cabin includes a queen-size bed with a stunning sea view, plenty of lockers, and a walk-in shower in the bathroom. On the starboard side, there are two VIP guest cabins, each with a separate shower and head., extra two cabins with single beds and toilet seperately .The forward section contains a skipper cabin with its own shower.
